Favorable Reports Ordered.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—The select committee on the election of president, vice president and representatives in congress has agreed to report favorably to the house the bill granting a pension of $50 per month to Mrs. John A. Logan, and to report favorably the bill granting a pension to Mrs. R. A. Blair, widow of the late Francis P. Blair, jr., in the same amount.

A favorable report has been ordered by the house postoffice committee on Representative Anderson's bill to prevent unjustified railroad competition to offices and to require all telegraph companies to give prompt and impartial service in the exchange of telegraph business over their wires, and to maintain and operate their own telegraph lines. The only essential amendment made in the bill by the full committee was the including of suitable provisions for aided telegraph companies with

R. W. SPEER,
Manager of the Gazette.

Stepniak, the Russian nihilist, has written to Senator Hawley, protesting against the adoption of the proposed extradition treaty between the United States and Russia. If this treaty is adopted, the Russian government may demand by extradition any one charged with being a nihilist and we should be compelled by the agreement to deliver this alleged adherent to Russia. It practically condemns a man without being heard. The Russian government has not had the custom of giving any political offenders a fair trial. The person extradited may not have done anything against the laws of Russia. It is quite right that our government should always show a good deal of favor to Russia, because she alone of all the European countries was thoroughly friendly to this nation throughout the war of the rebellion. But we cannot stultify ourselves as a free country, and as a friend of free movements elsewhere by handing over to Russia all those whom the Russian authorities may demand. If any nihilist has been a participant in any of the conspiracies to assassinate the czar, it would be our duty to honor the demands made by the Russian government, but there should be proof that he was connected with such a conspiracy before he is delivered. It should not be considered a punishable offense in this country to be a nihilist. He should only be punished when he shows out his opinion in a way that is a menace to law and order.

It has for some time been a rule of the postoffice department that the United States should not be used by lotteries to get their circulars or to receive remittances. The law has been endorsed by the press of the country, as a just law calculated to suppress a great evil. The managers have been persistent in publishing advertisements of these lotteries. The newspapers answer for the same purpose that the lotteries' circulars did. Therefore, Mr. Blount, of Georgia, introduced a bill forbidding the mailing of newspapers and other publications containing lottery advertisements. The bill is a very just one and ought to pass. If it is a good rule that the United States mail should not carry lottery circulars, it is a good rule that the mail should not carry newspapers containing lottery circulars. Our esteemed contemporary, the Denver Republican, which has just conducted various crusades for moral reforms, is afraid this law will interfere with the freedom of the press. Its fears are quite groundless. It will only interfere with the receipts of the newspaper. As the newspapers have concurred in the ruling of the department regarding circulars, it ought not to protest against the ruling forbidding newspapers being used as circulars. There is altogether too much license in the character of advertisements now being published in newspapers. It is not an uncommon thing for them to publish advertisements in aid of the lowest kinds of vice. Those newspapers ought to be indicted as procurers. Our esteemed contemporary also says that the bill would apply to any news regarding the drawings of the lotteries and thus materially interfere with the freedom of the press. If it might also apply to anything in favor of a lottery, for one may be as much of an advertisement as the other, and frequently the latter would be the greater. If a newspaper were to publish an advertisement stating that information would be given of how to break into a house and also what houses would have treasure or that it would pay to rob it we presume it would be the undertaker of fewer, provided it could be shown that any person through the advertisement was led to break into any particular house. But it would not be an infraction of the newspaper rule to show that a house had been broken into by thieves.

The laws are not nearly stringent enough in regard to the advertisements which appear in the newspapers. There are very few professional papers and we regret to say that we cannot except the Republican, which does not publish advertisements which are objectionable. The claim that the only source advertisement usually appears through carelessness but the regularity with which they have appeared in many papers, particularly in Chicago [illegible] that they were published for profit. If newspapers could be subject to for publishing such advertisements they would be more careful. It would be in the interest of public morals and of respectable journalism if such things were not only indictable but also if the writers were more vigilant in enforcing such laws.

TEMPERANCE NOTES.

The Grand Jury in Atlanta Ga., has been reduced from $15 00 to $4 00.

Detroit, Mich., has 1063 grog shops where $5,750,135 are yearly spent for strong drink.

Arrangements are to be established in New York under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. of that city, funds sufficient to inaugurate the work have already been donated.

The Supreme Court of Iowa on January 12th commenced hearing argument by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster favoring the repeal of the internal revenue on the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

The whisky men of Washington are getting up a mammoth petition in opposition to the one presented to congress asking for the prohibition of the liquor traffic in the District of Columbia.

The grand jury of Warren county, N. J., has found seventeen true bills, most different parties for selling liquor to minors, and on Sunday. Among those indicted is T. T. Hooker, brother of Assembly from the first district, who keeps a hotel in Washington.

The nine Woman's Christian Temperance Unions of Detroit, Mich., have consolidated under one head to be called the Union of Unions. Mrs. Dyar Preston is president, and the presidents of the several unions, which will be hereafter work separately, are vice presidents.

Mr. John N. Stearns, secretary of the National Temperance society, is in Washington in the interest of bills before congress favored by his organization. Among them are those providing for the appointment of a commission of inquiry concerning the paper traffic, constitutional prohibition, and legislation which will prohibit the exportation of liquor from this country to Africa.

Tokio, Japan, W. C. T. U. held its second annual meeting December 6, 1885. The president made an address and officers were elected for the ensuing year. Among the many speeches made was one by Miss Shiro Kusuda which was especially interesting. Two gentlemen contributed $50 each and many others smaller sums to assist in carrying on the work of the society. At the close of the meeting Mr. Sasaki invited all the members to dinner at the East Palace Admiralty.

The Washingtonian Home's for incurables in Chicago has just celebrated its twenty-fourth anniversary. The buildings have recently been greatly enlarged, and are now admirably equipped for the work for which they are intended. The home formerly received a certain percentage of all the saloon license fees paid into the city treasury, but since the "high license" law went into effect it has received from the city $20,000 yearly. While the institution is doing an immense amount of good, and too great praise cannot be given its managers, one can but reflect that it is poor policy to license a business which makes such reformatories necessary.

Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, January 30.—Stocks in the main were strong and active at the opening and close but dull and stagnant during the intervening portion of the day. Opening prices were at an advance of ¼ to ½ per cent over Saturday's close. During the period of stagnation prices were brought down below the first figures, especially in Missouri Pacific. The close was quiet but firm. Governments were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened strong at 86½ and in early trading continued strong and advanced to 86¾. Sales at that carried the price down to 87½, which was followed by a rally in the afternoon, and the market closed firm at 86¾. Sales 3,110,000 barrels.

Fire on the Cumberland.

WINNEMUCCA, January 30.—Latest reports from the mountains indicate that there has been great loss of life on the Canadian Pacific owing to a snow slide. Passengers coming on the trains from Calgary bring meagre particulars of the disaster. A strong chinook wind has been prevailing for the past week and all along the line from Donald to Glacier snow has been coming down on the track in tremendous quantities. Near Palliser station B. C., several men were caught in the slide. Only one was dug out alive, and he was badly bruised and injured and is not expected to recover. The mild weather has put an effectual stop to all through Canadian Pacific trains and as the mountain streams are considerably swollen it may be some time before traffic is resumed.

TELEGRAPH PERSONALITIES.

The harbor of Reynal, Russia is closed by ice and navigation suspended.

By command of Governor Adams a general court martial commenced at Denver yesterday with J. A. Nicholson president and Lieutenant Frank Perkman prosecuting marshal for the purpose of trying Captain Lawson of Troop C upon two charges.

A committee representing striking operatives and [illegible] of the Philadelphia and Reading and Lehigh Valley Railroad companies and Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company arrived in Washington yesterday for the purpose of urging congress to take action with reference to Reading troubles.

The Territories.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—Delegate Voorhees of Washington territory addressed the senate committee on territories in support of the bill to annex the Pan Handle of Idaho to Washington territory and Governor Stevens of that territory opposing the change. Next Friday the committee will hear arguments upon pending measures relating to affairs in Utah.

Escaped from the Gallows.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., January 30.—Schooner Andrew G. Proctor arrived today from the western banks, bringing the first arrival from off shore for ten years. Captain Whalen reports the ships of the fleet generally have had the worst luck ever experienced. He thinks the fact is the fish must have left the usual grounds and that many days will be required.

Conviction to be Hung.

DUBLIN, January 30.—Father Keenan of Enniskeen, County Donegal, was hanged this morning in the county jail.

Five bombs filled with powder and slugs and a dynamite cartridge were found in Lee Goodgery square today. One of the bombs exploded.

Father McFadden was today committed to prison for three months' imprisonment.

The Border War.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., January 30.—In order to quell outrages perpetrated between the McCoys and Hatfields, Governor Wilson ordered sixty armed militia of the state to report in the city tomorrow night for further orders. Governor Wilson today received a telegram from Governor Blackburn of Kentucky, offering to send soldiers to the front from his state. The Camden and Clermont guards today tendered their services to aid in suppressing the border war.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., January 30.—The residents between the Hatfields of Logan county, this state and the McCoys of Pike county, Kentucky, is settled for the present. The agent whom Governor Wilson sent to Logan county some days ago returned this afternoon and reported the belligerents on both sides have surrendered and the trouble was ended. Governor Wilson has countermanded his order calling out the militia, and ordered those en route for this city for the purpose of going to the frontier to return to their homes.

A Texas Sugar Plantation.

A hand, that is a man, who lives on this plantation or any other, has his comfortable cabin, all the firewood free a patch of ground for his garden, license of a mile to ride his own plowing and wood hauling, and does not have to work on Saturday afternoon, and on many plantations not on Sunday at all. He, his wife, sons and daughters may all work in the fields and save house all the year round. His family can earn on an average $8 a week. They can go on the bayou or river and catch all the catfish and perch they can eat. They can set traps and catch birds for their garden [illegible] they can raise enough vegetables to keep them all the year, and perhaps in a pen keep a fat pig or two. If they were provident saving, thrifty, such a family of three or four persons could put by quite a little fortune in a few years.

The planter probably prefers the colored laborer to any other. In the first place he has to give the same house, same space, same control of acres to a white family and gets practically only one worker, as the white man's wife and daughters do not go in the field to cut cane or stand under the sugar house shed feeding the slowly revolving "carrier." There are certain favorable times in sugar planting and making when plenty of help and that swift and sturdy is needed. At such times give 5 negro cabins taken in the quarters will be filled up, and all the family, old and [illegible], save the very youngest, will be at work, not only helping the master but making money as well.—Catharine Cole in New Orleans Picayune.

Another Territory Outrage.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., January 30.—In the Kansas Nations, Indian Territory, on Saturday morning, the inside facts were learned at the house of Reuben Williamson, a wealthy cattle owner living about six miles from Spring station, and called him out. He was shot and killed. The party then entered the house and awakening Mrs. Williamson demanded to be shown where the money was concealed. Williamson had gone in the early part of the week returned from Kansas City where he had sold about $50,000 worth of his stock and the cash was supposed to be in the house. Failing in their efforts to get either Williamson or his wife to tell where their money was [illegible] Mrs. Williamson [illegible] both her husband and herself, [illegible] Williamson [illegible] Mrs. Williamson told the outlaws that all the money [illegible] the Merchants Bank of Kansas City, [illegible] turned over the colored clerk [illegible] on hand, after which they left. Williamson's parents [illegible] the shock to his system [illegible] Settlers and ranchmen in the neighborhood were soon aroused and a strong party are on the trail of the thieves and cut-laws, who have taken a prize in the mountains. It is hardly likely they will escape and if caught they will certainly be lynched.

Fifty Vessels in Peril.

WASHINGTON, January 30.—The signal corps at Norfolk reports upwards of fifty vessels in the lower Chesapeake and from Great Point to Tuckanuck shoals. Many of them are schooners, having but three masts and others. The position is more than perilous, as the most powerful tugs cannot render them assistance. Most of them will be wrecked unless prompt assistance is rendered when the ice breaks up.

An Unmanageable Train.

MUNCIE, Ind., January 30.—The eastbound B. & O. line express train, this morning, ran through the city at the rate of fifty miles an hour, and created much excitement. The air brakes of the express were inoperative and the train could not be checked. Both engines were almost entirely burned, together with two passenger coaches and freight cars. Fire in each city broke out in the caboose cars, but these will be almost a total loss. The track was torn up for rods and the depot and station house was also burned to the ground. Miraculously no one was hurt except the freight engineer, who is severely injured.

Read Mr. Ashby's bunker ad in this issue.

Mr. Charles Carroll of Leadville is in the city.

The police magistrate fined two men for drunkenness yesterday.

Mr. G. Arthur Rice, the Glenwood Springs banker, is registered at The Antlers yesterday.

Ashby will give an exhibition of silver plating in his show window this morning from 7 to 9.

Judge Harrison has returned from Buena Vista, where he has been holding a term of court.

There is a petition in circulation for the extension of Kiowa street, which is to be opened.

The Rev. A. R. Kieffer, of this city, occupied the pulpit of St. Mark's church, Denver, on Sunday.

Mr. Robert Meiklejohn succeeds Mr. M. E. Smith as night operator at the Western Union telegraph office.

Mr. F. W. Lott has made an important change in his advertisement which should attract attention.

Messrs. William Jones and Isaac Gutshall, two prominent ranchmen of Table Rock, were in the city yesterday.

The West Colorado Springs company yesterday filed the plat of the town of West Colorado Springs with the county clerk.

The Howard Athenaeum, Boston specialty company, are booked to appear in this city on Monday evening, February 6th, instead of Thursday, February 9th, as heretofore announced.

Dr. W. K. Sutton, the dentist, is now pleasantly located in his new parlors on the northwest corner of Pike's Peak and Nevada avenues.

Mr. Frank J. Penrose, a prominent wool buyer of Philadelphia, arrived from that city yesterday afternoon and is stopping at The Antlers.

The Baptist literary union will hold its regular meeting this evening in the First Baptist church at half past seven o'clock. Selections from Whittier's poems will be given.

School district No. 36 has been organized by County Superintendent of Schools Reuben Burrey. The new district is located near Turkey creek, and the board of school directors is composed of the following gentlemen: Hugh Conlogue, president; L. J. Terry, secretary; Frank Cross, treasurer.

Mr. Henry Kratz the tonsorial artist, is now pleasantly located in the room adjoining our office on Tejon street. In his new quarters he will be able to furnish his patrons with more conveniences and comforts than they have heretofore enjoyed. He has fitted up his establishment in an elegant manner, and it is now one of the most attractive places in the city.

Mr. Louis Loughlin, the well known manufacturing jeweler at Davis' has just completed a very handsome silver medal which will be given to the successful contestant in the declamatory contest which took place in the Phoenix lyceum society on the 21st Friday evening. The engraving was done by Mr. S. J. Pullen. The medal can be seen in the window of the store for the next few days.

Last evening, about 7 o'clock, Mr. E. C. Baker kindled a fire in his wall paper and painting establishment on Pike's Peak avenue preparatory to going to the stable in the rear of the building. He carelessly let the match fall into a pile of loose paper without having extinguished it, and left the building. The paper was soon ablaze, but fortunately a passerby rushed in and extinguished the flames without a call being made upon the fire department. The loss, with the exception of Mr. Baker's overcoat, was trifling.

In the death of W. H. Moore this city loses an old and respected citizen. He was born in New York in 1811 and settled in Eau Claire, Wis., where he contracted consumption ten years ago last November. He came to Colorado Springs nine years ago last June. During his residence in this city he was a confirmed invalid and had little opportunity to exhibit those generous traits of character which endeared him to his family and friends. He bore the ills of life with patient fortitude and maintained throughout the later years of his life the loving and cheerful disposition which he manifested while in the full enjoyment of health.

The Colorado City News in a recent issue contained the following: "The Sunday issues of the Colorado Springs GAZETTE are papers that can be read not only with pleasure but studied with profit by even the most intelligent. How different the articles which appeared in last Sunday's issue from the diluted and abridged dime novels which take up the columns of the Sunday editions even in such excellent papers as the Denver dailies. In the last Sunday edition of the GAZETTE there was an article on Spanish republicanism, by ex-President Castelar, an article on Henri Rochefort, by General Chisseret, of Paris commune fame; Stepniak gives an account of nihilism in Russia and Gail Hamilton writes on Ghostly Visitors."

Some changes in the order of the lectures in the course to be given for the benefit of the Free Reading room and library have been found necessary. By reason we give the names of the lecturers and their subjects as now arranged:

January 6—[illegible] Rev. A. C. Peck
